OPEN SHOP PREVAILS, SO ANNOUNCES STATE FAIR PAVILION CONTRACTOR.

Board of Agriculture Completes Terms With Portsmouth, O., Firm—Weber's Band Engaged.

The executive committee of the State Board of Agriculture appointed to consider all details for the next fair, was busy yesterday drawing up the contracts with the representative of the E. G. Nave Company, of Portsmouth, O., for the erection of the new live-stock pavilion. The papers were drawn up and signed late in the afternoon. The representative announced that work would begin within the next few weeks and would be completed by the first of September.

It is definitely determined that the open-shop rule will prevail during the course of construction, and that union and non-union men will be employed alike on the building. Outside men will be brought into the city to work on the building only as it is practicable to the contracting firm and where local labor can be secured more advantageously it will be used.

In the employment of non-union contractors will only be adhering to a policy which is followed by every general contractor in Louisville. The contract was signed yesterday with Weber's band of thirty pieces. This organization will play afternoon and night during the entire fair.

A printing firm has submitted an advertising placard to be used in promoting the next fair. It is a reproduction of the live-stock pavilion done in colors, with the date of the fair, September 14-19, conspicuously displayed. The placard was also signed yesterday with Weber's band of thirty pieces. This organization will play afternoon and night during the entire fair.

George Doll makes quick change—gets promotion.

Belinquished Texas and Pacific Company Position To Go With International and Great Northern.

George Doll gave up his position as traveling freight agent of the Texas and Pacific railroad, with headquarters in Louisville, on the fourth floor of the Lincoln Savings Bank building, Thursday night, and yesterday morning he was in Cincinnati ready to take up his duties as the commercial agent of the International and Great Northern. He made the change of place without a moment's delay. Mr. Doll accepted the position in Cincinnati several weeks ago, but his business kept him in Louisville until the day before he was to take up his new duties.

In Cincinnati Mr. Doll succeeds J. M. Ball, who was transferred to Denver several weeks ago. Mr. Doll is a young man in years, but an old railroad. He began his career in the auditor's office of the old C. & O. and St. L., where he was an office boy, after serving an apprenticeship as a messenger boy and newspaper carrier. There is a good deal of comment as to why the T. & P. should relinquish so valuable a member of its field force to the I. & G. N. The local successor of Mr. Doll has not yet been appointed.

POST-OFFICE RECEIPTS SHOW A BIG INCREASE.

Robert E. Woods, postmaster, and his assistants at the Louisville post-office are highly elated over the fact that the receipts of the office for the first four months of the calendar year, for April, the receipts of the office for the first four months of 1907 were $278,250.67, and for the same period of 1908, $328,441.39, showing a gain of $50,190.72. The receipts for April, 1907, were $68,807.69, and for April of 1908, $72,117.48, showing a gain of $3,309.79.

SETTLEMENT IN HAYDEN CASE.

The Mayfield Woolen Mills Clothing Company, of St. Louis, which went into the hands of a receiver about three months ago yesterday in Judge Miller's court asked for a discharge of the receiver by reason of the fact that the company's creditors had agreed to a six and twelve-months extension of the indebtedness and because the prospects of the company appear bright under this step. However, minority stockholders filed a petition charging conversion and misconduct on the part of directors of the company and asking that the receiver proceed to liquidate the assets of the company and that the receiver make his report to the court.

The receiver, Judge Miller held that the receiver should make his report to the court and that the minority stockholders should file a petition to strike the transcript of the receiver's report of the testimony from the record and from the bill of exceptions; appellant objected and motion was denied.

Upton's Committee vs. Gaddy, Harding, ordered heard with the case of Upton's Committee vs. Gaddy.

Lawson, et al., vs. Williams, Knox; appellant filed notice and grounds and motion to dismiss appeal under rule 3, ordered.

Clinger's Adm'x vs. C. and O. Railroad Co., of Kentucky, et al.—Filed April 15, 1908. (To be reported.) Appeal from Mason Circuit Court. Opinion of the court by Judge Nunn, reversing.

Petition—Allegations—Conclusions—Jurisdictional Facts.—In a petition by a party removed, case from the State court to the Federal Court an allegation "that its co-defendants were not necessary, nor proper parties to the action, and that the sole purpose of the plaintiff in making the parties defendants was a fraudulent one to deprive the petition of its constitutional rights," amounted only to a conclusion of the pleader, and the allegation that "the negligence charged in the petition against its co-defendants was untrue and known by the plaintiff to be untrue" does not state any jurisdictional fact.

The question of negligence or of negligence was an issue solely within the province of the jury to hear and determine.

Second—Same—Negligent Injury—Joint Liability of Defendants.—If an injury is inflicted by two or more wrongdoers, an action may be maintained against one or all of them. While several may be guilty of several distinct negligent acts, yet if their concurrent effect is to produce an actionable injury they are all liable therefor.

Third—Same—Resident and Nonresident Defendants—Joint Action Against.—Where in an action for damages for an injury alleged to have been caused by the negligence of a nonresident railroad company, and its resident conductor, who are jointly and severally liable, the plaintiff's complaint is not guilty, from its general knowledge of his powers and duties, and the evidence that the plaintiff had no reasonable belief that the defendant was guilty when the petition was filed, the court should give a peremptory instruction to find for the defendant.

Fourth—Same—Incorporation—Statute of Limitations.—Where a railroad company is incorporated in Kentucky, and its conductors are residents of Kentucky, the statute of limitations applies to the company and its conductors.

City of Latonia, et al., vs. Latonia Agricultural Association, et al.—Filed April 22, 1908. (To be reported.) Appeal from Kenton Circuit Court. Opinion of the court by Judge Barker, affirming.

First—Municipalities—Streets—Adverse Holding—Notice—Limitation—Statute of Limitations.—Section 246, Kentucky Statutes provides "that limitation shall not begin to run in respect to the question of right of way for the recovery of any street or other public easement until the trustees of the city or town have been notified by the party in possession to the effect that such possession is adverse to the right of such city or town, and until such notice is given all such possession shall be deemed to be adverse."

Second—Same—Dedication of Streets—Acceptance—Presumption of Continuity.—Where a street or alley is dedicated to the use of the public, and the dedication is accepted by the corporation, and the presumption of acceptance is rebutted by the fact of the corporation's possession of the street or alley, the presumption of acceptance is rebutted by the fact of the corporation's possession of the street or alley.

Third—Same—Limitation—After the Inclosure and use of an alley for fifteen years it is to be for the maintenance of a town or city, and the public is to be to the alley.

Hazlet, et al., vs. Hazlet, et al.—Filed April 22, 1908. (To be reported.) Appeal from Boone Circuit Court. Opinion of the court by Judge Barker, affirming.

Internal Revenue Collections.—The internal revenue collections yesterday were as follows: Beer, $565; whisky, $24,247.04; cigars, $853.89; tobacco, $20,943.36; case stamps, $30. Total, $55,235.24.

Hoffman Gives Bond.—Magistrate Frank J. Hoffman, against whom two indictments have been returned charging him with murder in the second degree, appeared in the Criminal Court yesterday, and upon waiving formal arraignment was released upon a bond of $100 in each case. Theodore Geopler supplied the surety. The cases were set for June 3 for hearing.
